

CLINICAL LEGAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

NEWSLETTER

Vol. IX, No. 2

November, 2000

ANNUAL JOBS ISSUE

ALABAMA

Clinical Program Director

The University of Alabama School of Law seeks candidates for the Clinical Program Director, a tenure-track faculty position. Candidates must have a J.D. from an ABA accredited law school, possess an excellent academic record, and have experience working in a clinical program in an ABA accredited law school or substantial practice experience. Prior experience as a clinical program administrator is preferred, but not required. The Clinical Program Director reports administratively to the Dean of the Law School.

Alabama has a tradition of academic excellence and is today considered among the nation's strongest public institutions. Alabama's three-year Strategic Plan has highlighted the Clinic for continued enhancement including a plan to build in the near future an addition to the Law Center to house the Clinical Program. Clinical programs include the areas of criminal law, civil law, disability law, pension law, children's rights, and elder law. Alabama's Clinic has been designated as the Protection and Advocacy Agency for the State, and disability law is thus an area of special interest. The Law School also has a significant externship program.

Alabama offers a creative, energetic person excellent opportunities to build upon and expand its clinical program offerings. Salary is competitive with excellent benefits and professional support. Initial academic rank will be determined by the applicant's qualifications and experience. Candidates must either be licensed to practice in Alabama or become licensed as soon after accepting the position as is reasonably possible.

Please send nominations or apply by sending a resume and references to Professor Bryan Fair, Clinic Search Committee Chair, Box 870382, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0382. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled and it is anticipated the candidate will begin in the Summer 2001.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All persons who meet the position requirements, including women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Requests for reasonable accommodations during the application and/or interview process should be made to Senior Assistant Dean J. Noah Funderburg, Box 870382, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0382. (205) 348-4508.

AMERICAN

Tenure-Track and Visiting Professor-Clinical Program

American University, Washington College of Law, is seeking applications for a tenure-track professor and visiting professors in its Clinical Program for the 2001-2002 Academic Year. Responsibilities in the in-house, live-client clinical program include teaching a seminar component of a clinic, conducting case rounds and supervising students in their fieldwork. In addition, these faculty members teach one course each year outside of the clinical curriculum and participate fully in all aspects of the life of the law school. The Washington College of Law currently has the following clinics: civil practice clinic, community and economic development law clinic, criminal justice clinic (prosecution and defense); domestic violence clinic (criminal and civil); international human rights clinic; tax clinic; and women and the law clinic. The applicant's teaching responsibilities will depend on experience, interest, and the overall needs of the clinical program.

Minimum qualifications include a J.D. degree, outstanding academic record, three years experience as a lawyer, equivalent experience or training as a clinical teacher and membership in a bar. Desired qualifications include published legal scholarship and participation in clinical teachers' conferences and workshops. American University is an EEO\AA employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body.

Applications consisting of a curriculum vitae and cover letter should be sent to Professor Peter Jaszi, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, c/o Office of the Dean, American University, Washington College of Law, 4801 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016, with a copy to Professor Richard Wilson, Director, Clinical Program, at the same address.

Practitioners in Residence

American University, Washington College of Law, is seeking applications for Practitioners in Residence in its Clinical Program for the 2001 - 2002 Academic Year. These are short-term (normally two year) appointments. Responsibilities in the in-house, live-client clinical program include teaching a seminar component of a clinic, conducting case rounds and supervising students in their fieldwork. These faculty members teach one additional course each year outside of the clinical curriculum. The Clinical Program will provide an orientation and training for incoming Practitioners, as well as mentoring while the Practitioner is in residence. The applicant's teaching responsibilities will depend on experience, interest, and the overall needs of the clinical program.

Minimum qualifications include a J.D. degree, outstanding academic record, three years experience as a lawyer and membership in a bar. Desired qualifications include experience or training as a clinical teacher, published legal scholarship and participation in clinical teachers' conferences and workshops. American University is an EEO\AA employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body.

Applications consisting of a curriculum vitae and cover letter should be sent to Professor Peter Jaszi, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, c|o Office of the Dean, American University, Washington College of Law, 4801 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016, with a copy to Professor Richard Wilson, Director, Clinical Program, at the same address.

ARIZONA STATE

Civil Practice Clinic

The Arizona State University College of Law invites applications to teach in the law school's in-house civil practice clinic in the position of associate professor on the tenure track or professor with tenure. (Those who prefer a non-tenure track teaching academic professional appointment with the potential for job security are also welcome to apply.) Both beginning and experienced teachers will be considered. All candidates must have a J.D. degree and a minimum of three years experience as a lawyer, which may include graduate clinical training or judicial clerking. Teaching experience and demonstrated scholarship required appropriate to rank. Application deadline is November 15, 2000 or the 15th of each month thereafter until position is filled. Submit resume (AALS application accepted) to Jan Spence, Coordinator for Appointments Committee, Arizona State University College of Law, P.O. Box 877906, Tempe, AZ 85287-7906. AA/EEO

BALTIMORE

Tenure-Track Clinic Faculty

The University of Baltimore School of Law invites applications for a tenure track faculty position to begin in the 2001 - 2002 academic year. We are seeking applicants interested in and well-qualified to teach in our Civil Clinic. Applicants should have an interest in poverty law and a willingness to teach non-clinical courses. Candidates should possess an academic record that demonstrates a strong potential for scholarly achievement, practice related experience in civil litigation, alternative dispute resolution and/or transactional matters. Faculty teaching in the clinic at the University of Baltimore are fully integrated into the law school faculty. In furtherance of our institutional commitment to a diverse faculty, we particularly welcome applications from minorities. Applications consisting of curriculum vitae and cover letter should be sent to Professor Walter Schwidetzky, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, University of Baltimore School of Law, 1420 N. Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21201.

BARRY UNIVERSITY

Tenure-Track Clinic Faculty

Barry University School of Law invites applications for a tenure-track clinical faculty position. Entry-level clinical professors will be considered but law school teaching experience is preferred. Barry University School of Law is committed to diversity among its faculty and student body. We welcome applications from persons whose backgrounds will add to the diversity of the faculty. This position is for the Family/ Children's Clinic and will begin in January 2001. The application review process will begin on September 15, 2000, and will continue until the position is filled. Contact: Professor Toyna Young, Chair, Faculty Recruitment Committee, Barry University School of Law, 6441 East Colonial Drive, Orlando, FL 32807-3673.

This is a grant-funded position and is subject to final approval of the grantor. The position will be filled in December, to be prepared for a January start. Barry University School of Law seeks an experienced lawyer and teacher to join the faculty and help develop this program. The faculty member will teach and supervise students who will represent children as attorneys ad litem in abuse and neglect proceedings as well as provide related advocacy on behalf of children in foster care. Applicants should have substantial experience in the practice of law and preferably in clinical legal education. Applicants should be willing to become members of the Florida Bar as soon as possible, which requires passing the Florida Bar Exam. Applicants should also have a distinguished academic record, a record of scholarly achievement or the potential for scholarly achievement, and a commitment to working in a dynamic and challenging academic environment.

Located in Orlando, Florida, Barry University School of Law is the only law school serving the Orlando metropolitan area. The law school is part of Barry University, Miami Shores, Florida, which was founded in 1940 by the Adrian Dominican Sisters. Barry University School of Law is not approved by the American Bar Association. The school intends to apply for provisional approval in September of 2000 and anticipates a site visit in the Fall of 2000. The school believes that its application for provisional approval will come before the ABA Accreditation Committee in late Winter or early Spring 2001. Barry University School of Law makes no representation that it will be approved by the American Bar Association.

BROOKLYN

Tenure-Track Transactional Clinical Faculty

Brooklyn Law School seeks to hire a full-time, tenure track faculty member to develop and teach a transactional law clinic, along with related doctrinal courses. The Law School has identified the areas of not-for-profit corporations, community development, business, or intellectual property as possible contexts for such a clinic. This list is not exclusive; however, the choice of transactional contexts will ultimately depend on a number of factors including the faculty member's interests and expertise. The clinic may be structured on either a live-client, externship or simulation model. Its objectives will be to familiarize students with the major processes (planning, drafting, counseling, negotiation, etc.) that lawyers use when representing clients in business transactions. The program will also help students develop the problem solving skills that are essential to effective transactional lawyering regardless of a transaction's particular substantive law setting.

Applicants should have transactional practice experience, a strong academic background, and a demonstrated interest in scholarly activity and publication. Applications should be submitted to Professor Marsha Garrison, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, Brooklyn Law School, 250 Joralemon Street, Brooklyn, NY 11201. The application should describe the clinical program and related course offerings that the applicant proposes.

CALIFORNIA-HASTINGS

Assistant Clinical Professor

The University of California Hastings College of the Law is recruiting for an Assistant Clinical Professor of Law to start at the beginning of the 2001-2002 academic year. The position is an entry level, clinical tenure-track position in Hastings' in-house Civil Justice Clinic, which is the curricular umbrella for several different subject matter clinics and accompanying seminars. The Civil Justice Clinic began eight years ago, and its clinical program has evolved over time. The current offerings involve subject matter clinics in special education, employment, housing, and disability benefits as part of a course on Individual Representation; Group Representation clinics in Community Economic Development and in Group Advocacy and Policy Reform; and a new Mediation Clinic, where students will serve as mediators in employment discrimination cases before the EEOC. Each clinic is for one semester, where students receive 4 academic credits and 4 fieldwork credits.

Civil Justice Clinic faculty engage in both classroom teaching and individual supervision of student casework. Its permanent faculty presently consists of two tenured clinical professors and two long-term contract clinical teachers. The new faculty member will have responsibilities for collaboratively teaching existing clinical offerings and the opportunity to develop new clinical courses. In addition to classroom teaching and supervision of student lawyering, the successful candidate will be required to meet applicable scholarship standards for clinical faculty prior to promotion to Associate Clinical Professor and the receipt of tenure as a Clinical Professor of Law.

Hastings is located in the Civic Center area of San Francisco, which is adjacent to a low-income residential neighborhood. Clinical faculty have their offices at the Civil Justice Clinic, which is in a Hastings building within a block of the main administrative and classroom buildings. The clinical facility has a networked computer system, individual student work stations, video equipment, interview and conference rooms, a small library, and large and small seminar rooms.

Experience in clinical law teaching and student supervision, substantial legal practice experience, and subject matter expertise are important considerations, but there are not specific prerequisites. Hastings is looking for candidates who have shown potential for excellence in clinical teaching and supervision, have significant hands-on lawyering experience, have demonstrated a commitment to public and professional service, and are interested in producing high quality, academic scholarship or comparable critical or policy reform work. Hastings is an equal opportunity employer and strongly encourages candidates from diverse backgrounds to apply.

Applicants should apply immediately by sending a resume or curriculum vita and a cover letter to Professor Jo Carrillo, Chair of the Faculty Appointments Committee, UC Hastings College of the Law, 200 McAllister Street, San Francisco, CA 94102. The Committee will be meeting throughout the Fall term to screen applications for the position.

CASE WESTERN*Clinical Faculty

The Milton A. Kramer Law Clinic Center of Case Western Reserve University School of Law invites applications for a clinical faculty position beginning in the 2001-2002 academic year. Applicants should have at least three years of practice experience and preferably, two years of prior teaching experience. We seek candidates with distinguished academic records and experience as well as a strong commitment to clinical teaching. This is a long-term contract position, for which unlimited renewals are possible and no publication requirement exists. The CWRU Clinical program includes 6 full time clinical faculty working collaboratively in clinics focused on Criminal Defense, Family Law, Health Law, Civil Litigation and Community Development. Case Western Reserve University School of Law is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and encourages the nomination and application of women and minority candidates. Send resume to: Professor Michael Heise
Chair, Faculty Appointments
Committee
Case Western Reserve School of Law
11075 East Boulevard
Cleveland, Ohio 44106

CONNECTICUT*Visiting Clinical Faculty

The University of Connecticut School of Law seeks applicants for a one-year visiting clinical position beginning in the fall of 2001. The visiting professor would work in the law school's Civil Rights Clinic, which represents parties in housing discrimination matters, parents in child protection cases, claimants in unemployment compensation appeals, and occasionally other types of matters.

Experienced clinicians are preferred (although experience in the types of cases handled by the Civil Rights Clinic is not necessary). Applicants who are members of the Connecticut bar or have the ability to waive in are strongly preferred. To waive in, an applicant must have practiced law in a single jurisdiction, as the principal means of her livelihood, for at least five of the past seven years.

The University of Connecticut encourages applications from under-represented groups including minorities, women and people with disabilities.

Applicants should submit a resume and letter of interest to Carolyn Jones, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, University of Connecticut School of Law, 65 Elizabeth Street, Hartford, CT 06105.

CORNELL	DAYTON
Visiting Clinical Faculty Cornell Law School is seeking a visitor for a full-time clinical teaching position in its civil law, live-client program for 2001-2002. Duties include classroom teaching and direct supervision of second and third year students in client representation. Experience in clinical education is preferred. Women, members of minority groups and physically challenged persons are encouraged to apply. Cornell is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. Although not a requirement, preference will be given to applicants who also would be interested in working during a portion of the summer months, for additional compensation, supervising students who are hired to work on cases during that period. (The summer is particularly delightful in Ithaca!) There are no teaching requirements, other than the supervision, during the summer. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A curriculum vitae and cover letter should be directed to Barry Strom, Director, Cornell Legal Aid Clinic, Myron Taylor Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853  barrystrom@postoffice.law.cornell.edu.	Tenure-Track and/or Visiting Clinical Faculty The University of Dayton School of Law seeks one or more tenure-track and/or visiting faculty members to teach in its clinical program beginning in the 2001-2002 academic year. The program aims to provide students with diverse lawyering experiences through individual client representation and community-based advocacy, education, and counseling aimed at group representation and law reform. It derives its broad array of cases and projects from well-established relationships with a variety of grass-roots organizations and other legal and non-legal service providers located in the surrounding communities. The faculty member(s) hired for the position will be expected to collaborate in the teaching of a classroom component as well as to supervise third-year law students in the delivery of quality legal services. Candidates with experience and training in clinical teaching methods and a demonstrated commitment to public interest lawyering are particularly encouraged to apply. While all practice backgrounds will be considered, those with law practice expertise in civil litigation, poverty law, juvenile and education law, mediation, criminal defense, housing, and/or community development and advocacy may be particularly well-suited for the position(s).

Versatility with respect to both subject matter and skills is desirable. Aptitude for collaboration and demonstrated record of innovation in both teaching and practice will be considered, as will evidence of scholarly record and potential. All applicants must be able to fulfill the Supreme Court of Ohio's requirements for temporary certification and/or admission to the bar upon hiring.

The University of Dayton is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. The University of Dayton is firmly committed to the principle of diversity.

Please direct inquiries and applications to Andrea M. Seielstad, Associate Professor of Law & Director of Clinical Programs, The University of Dayton School of Law, 300 College Park, Dayton, OH 45469-2750, (937) 229-3817; seielsta@udayton.edu. Applications should include a letter of interest, resume, and a list of three references.

GEORGETOWN

Clinical Fellowships

The Georgetown University Law Center is pleased to announce the availability of graduate law fellowships to commence in the summer of 2001. This Fellowship program is unique in American legal education. Each fellowship is associated with one of the Law Center's clinical programs, and each offers the opportunity to combine study with practice in the fields of clinical legal education and public interest advocacy.

The fellowships vary considerably in purpose, requirements and duties. They all share, however, a common goal. All fellowships offer interaction among faculty, students, and clients, and provide an opportunity for personal education and professional development. Each is designed to provide highly motivated lawyers the opportunity to develop skills as teachers and litigators within an exciting and supportive educational environment.

Typically, fellows enroll in a two-year program during which they are in residence at a specific Georgetown clinic. Upon completing the residence and the requirements for graduation, a fellow is awarded the degree of Master of Laws (Advocacy). The fellowships usually begin in the late summer with an intensive orientation. The training program is designed to immerse the new fellow in the substantive law applicable to a particular clinic and to train the fellow for the specific tasks to be undertaken in the clinical setting.

We expect fellowships to be available in the following subjects: appellate litigation, criminal and juvenile defense, political asylum, domestic violence, federal legislation, housing and development, communications law, environmental law, civil rights law, international human rights issues, special education law. We will also offer a fellowship in conjunction with our Street Law course. The Fellowship program offers a stipend in excess of $35,000 (taxable) per annum, plus all tuition and fees associated with the LL.M. program. Additional information may be obtained from Wallace J. Mlyniec, Associate Dean for Clinical Education, or from our website, <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/clincs/>

INDIANA-BLOOMINGTON

Clinical Associate Professor/ Director, Child Advocacy Clinic

The Indiana University School of Law - Bloomington seeks applicants to serve as Clinical Associate Professor and Director of the Child Advocacy Clinic. The Director, in consultation with our full-time clinical social worker, supervises the students in the Clinic who serve as Guardians Ad Litem, representing the best interests of children in contested divorce cases (and occasionally in paternity and termination of parental rights cases). The Director's responsibilities include supervision of student investigation and litigation, and extensive teaching. The teaching includes formal classes in fact investigation, interviewing, litigation, ethics, and legal issues related to representing the best interests of children. The teaching also includes regular supervision and case-discussion. The Clinic uses an interdisciplinary approach to representing children. The Director will work with the staff social worker to arrange classes on child development, family conflict and dysfunction, child interviewing and other issues. Although currently the overwhelming bulk of the clinic's activity is in providing Guardians ad Litem, the new director would be encouraged to explore other avenues for clinical education revolving around children's issues.

Successful applicants will be licensed Indiana attorneys or those who can be licensed by Summer 2001 (waiver into Indiana is possible if the applicant has five years or more of practice or teaching experience) with strong academic records and a strong interest in teaching and representing children. Salary is competitive. Applicants should send a resume and letter of interest to Professor Aviva Orenstein, Chair, Clinical Ranks Committee, Indiana University School of Law-Bloomington, 211 S. Indiana Avenue, Bloomington, IN 47405, by December 1, 2000. Indiana University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

MINNESOTA

Visiting Clinical Faculty

The University of Minnesota Law School is seeking applicants for a visiting clinic faculty position. This is a one or two-year temporary position for the academic year starting in the fall of 2001. The visiting clinic professor would be responsible for supervising student attorneys in the U of M's in house Civil Practice Clinic. Students in this clinic represent low-income clients in a variety of civil matters including family, government benefit and employment discrimination cases.

The University of Minnesota currently offers seventeen clinical courses with a broad diversity of subject matters. Sixty-five percent of students take at least one live clinical course. Seven in-house clinical faculty members and two full-time adjunct instructors teach the program.

Applicants who wish to visit for one year must be licensed to practice law in at least one state. Applicants who wish to visit for two years must be licensed to practice law in Minnesota or be eligible for admission. Preference will be given to applicants who have prior experience in clinical and classroom instruction. The University of Minnesota is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, or sexual orientation.

Applicants should send a letter of interest and resume to Professor Jean M. Gerval, Assistant Clinic Director, 229 19th Avenue South, Minneapolis, MN 55455.

Electronic applications will be accepted and should be sent to gerva001@tc.umn.edu. Applications are preferred by December 15, 2000.

MISSOURI-COLUMBIA

Clinical Teaching Fellow Family Violence Clinic

The Law School at the University of Missouri at Columbia is inviting applications for a 9 to 12 month clinical teaching fellow in its Family Violence Clinic and Seminar to begin January 2001 or August 2001. The Clinic enrolls 8 students per semester and serves indigent victims of domestic violence in rural counties. Under supervision of the Clinic Director, the fellow will assume teaching responsibilities for classroom lecturing, curriculum enhancement, directing student writing projects and community presentations, supervising students preparing for and conducting litigation and settlement conferences, and directing weekly case conferences. The fellow will also assist with administrative responsibilities for a law school clinic, federal, state, and private grants, liaisons with the state legislature, and personnel. Candidates should have 2 years experience as a practicing lawyer, possession of a car and valid driver's license, a valid license to practice law and eligibility for a Missouri license to practice law, strong written and demonstrated oral communication skills, commitment to public interest law, the ability to work collaboratively and independently, and preferably experience in family and domestic violence law. The benefits eligible position pays $25,000 for 2 semesters. The possibility to teach summer school also exists with an additional stipend of up to $8,500. Send resume to Mary Beck, University of Missouri School of Law, 104 Hulston Hall, Columbia, MO 65211 and email inquiries to beckm@missouri.edu. The University of Missouri is an equal opportunity affirmative action employer. To request ADA accommodations, please contact ADA coordinator at 573-884-7278 or adawww@showme.missouri.edu

NEVADA-LAS VEGAS

Externship Director

The William S. Boyd School of Law of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) invites applications for an Externship Director, a twelve-month, non-tenure-track faculty position. The Externship Director will be responsible for developing and overseeing student externships with governmental and non-profit organizations, and for designing and teaching the externship academic component for up to 24 students each term. The Externship Director will also assist other faculty seeking to create or teach externships.

Although we welcome the opportunity to consider all candidates, we prefer those with excellent records of professionalism and relevant education and experience. Candidates should be, or aspire to be, outstanding teachers, mentors and role models for our students, and be able to provide leadership on the faculty in the area of experiential learning. Candidates also should be willing and able to work with the local, state, and national bench and bar.

The Boyd Law School is a new, state-supported law school, the first in Nevada's history. Located at UNLV in a desert mountain setting and one of the fastest growing cities in the country, the law school commenced classes in August, 1998, and has a faculty of 28 new and experienced legal educators drawn from law schools around the country. The American Bar Association provisionally accredited the law school in July, 2000. The law school aspires to serve the community and state in significant ways, to be a major force in the continuing improvement of UNLV, to provide leadership to the legal profession and in the legal academy, and to provide access to people of all economic means and circumstances.

UNLV is a premier urban university located in the vibrant city of Las Vegas and is surrounded by the Mojave Desert. UNLV is the state's largest comprehensive, doctoral degree granting institution with 22,000 students and more than 700 full-time faculty. UNLV provides traditional and professional academic programs for a diverse student body and encourages innovative and interdisciplinary approaches to teaching, learning and scholarship.

We hope that the people who comprise the Boyd Law School will be an excellent and diverse community, in which faculty, students and staff will work together, collegially and respectfully, to maximize the potential of the students and help the law school fulfill its aspirations. We welcome applications from those who wish to participate in this sort of community and strongly encourage women and minorities to apply.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. The position of Externship Director, like all faculty positions, is contingent upon funding.

The position is available January, 2001, but we will consider outstanding applicants who can start in June, July or August, 2001. Application review begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of application, resume and the names of three references to:

Dianne Redsull
William S. Boyd School of Law
University of Nevada, Las Vegas
4505 Maryland Parkway
Box 451003
Las Vegas, Nevada 89154-1003
(702)- 895-3671
e-mail:
dredsull@cmail.nevada.edu

UNLV is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Persons are selected on the basis of ability without regard to race, color, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, religion, disability or veteran status.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Supervising Attorney

Northern Illinois University College of Law is seeking a Supervising Attorney for its newly created Zeke Giorgi Clinic. The Clinic will be situated in downtown Rockford, Illinois, and the Supervising Attorney will maintain a full-time office there. The Supervising Attorney will manage all aspects of clinical operations, be attorney of record for all cases taken by the clinic, and be expected to assist and advise students in the representation of clients. The Clinic is scheduled to open in January, 2001. The anticipated starting date for the Supervising Attorney is December 1, 2000.

Candidates with three or more years of trial and practice experience, preferably in both the civil and criminal areas, will receive the most consideration. The candidate should have an interest in fund-raising and grant writing. Prior experience in these areas will be considered favorably, as will prior experience in training attorneys and/or supervising law students. The successful applicant must be a member in good standing of the Illinois bar. Salary will be in the low-$40,000 range.

Applications and inquiries can be directed to: Professor Malcolm L. Morris, Northern Illinois University College of Law, Swen Parson Hall, DeKalb, IL 60115. Telephone: 815.753.0280. Applications should include a cover letter, resume and three references. The application review process will begin October 16, 2000, and will continue until the position is filled.

NIU is an equal opportunity employer. Minorities, women and applicants who would add to the diversity of the university are strongly encouraged to apply.

RUTGERS-NEWARK

Director, Environmental Law Clinic

Rutgers Law School - Newark invites applications for the position of Director of its Environmental Law Clinic, to commence July 1, 2001. The Environmental Law Clinic is the major public interest environmental law office in New Jersey. It handles a wide variety of cases and projects involving environmental law and environmental issues, primarily in New Jersey and the metropolitan New York area. In addition to the director, its teaching and support staff consists of two experienced clinical teachers, a staff scientist, and a secretary/administrator. Between 12 and 20 Rutgers Law School students enroll in the clinic each semester, and students from other law schools often work in the clinic during the summer.

The director is responsible for overseeing the clinic's legal work and its teaching, through supervision of students and co-teaching the clinic seminar. The director has administrative responsibility for supervising clinic staff, and for raising and managing grant funds to support the clinic's work. The director will also be expected to teach some non-clinical courses on a regular basis.

The Environmental Law Clinic is part of Rutgers' substantial in-house clinical program, with nine clinics and a faculty of seventeen teaching up to 100 students each semester. Rutgers' clinical program has been in operation since 1970, and the Environmental Law Clinic has been at Rutgers since 1984.

The director will be hired on either a clinical professor (a long-term renewable contract) or tenure/tenure-track basis, depending on qualifications. We expect the director to be, or to become, a member of the New Jersey bar.

If you are interested in being considered for the position, please send a letter expressing your interest, together with a resume and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of at least three references to:

Professor Jonathan M. Hyman
Chair, Clinical Appointments and Review Committee
Rutgers Law School
123 Washington Street
Newark, NJ 07102-3094
(973) 353-3244
(973) 353-1445 (fax)

jhyman@andromeda.rutgers.edu

You may also contact Professor Hyman if you have questions.

The position will remain open until it is filled. Rutgers is an equal opportunity employer, with a diverse faculty, staff, and student body.

RUTGERS-NEWARK

Clinical Attorney/Domestic Violence Advocacy Project

The Eric R. Neisser Public Interest Program at the Rutgers-Newark Law School is accepting applications for a clinical attorney to supervise the Domestic Violence Advocacy Project (DVAP). Position manages and promotes DVAP to the student body, and develops and implements a comprehensive legal training program to effectively prepare law students to assist victims in court for domestic violence cases. Incumbent will develop procedures for DVAP with presiding judges and supervise and evaluate the work performed by student participants. The candidate will also develop and promote community support to improve access to services for domestic violence victims, as well as develop a network of attorneys to provide pro bono legal representation. This is a one year, grant funded appointment at 80% time and employment is contingent upon financial resources. Applicant must be a licensed attorney eligible to practice before agencies or courts appropriate to the assigned cases, and/or substantial experience in litigation and in training lawyers. Starting salary range is $50,430 to $71,695 and will be proportionately adjusted to the 80% time of this position. Send resumes and list of references to:

Department of Personnel, 249 University Avenue, Newark, New Jersey 07102. Due to time constraints, please also fax a resume and list of references to Dean Fran Bouchoux at (973) 353-1248.

SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

Clinical Program Director (Tenure Track Position)

Seattle University School of Law seeks applicants for the position of Director of its Clinical Law Program. Responsibilities of the Director include general administration and oversight of the program's seven clinics and the school's externship program, along with teaching and supervision of students within the Clinical Program. In addition to the Director, the Clinical Program consists of three clinical faculty and three staff, along with several adjunct faculty. Areas of law currently covered in the law school's clinics include special education, juvenile criminal defense, administrative law, estate planning, immigration, bankruptcy and intellectual property.

Applicants should have substantial experience teaching in a clinical program at an ABA accredited law school; enjoy and have the ability to work collaboratively with the clinical faculty and staff; possess a demonstrated interest in scholarship; bring a large measure of creativity and energy to the position and have a commitment to social justice. Prior administrative experience in a clinical program or similar legal service organization is preferred but not required. This is a tenure track position, unless the applicant would prefer to be reviewed under Long Term Contract standards.

Seattle University is a Jesuit university located in the heart of Seattle, WA., within walking distance to the downtown business district and the courts. The law school is housed in a beautiful, new, technologically-advanced building on the university campus. The Clinical Program is housed in the new Ronald Peterson Law Clinic, which is a part of the law school building.

Please send nominations or applications with cover letter, resume and references to Professor Margaret Chon, Faculty Recruitment Committee Chair, Seattle University School of Law, 950 Broadway, Seattle, WA 98122-4340. Inquiries should be made to Professor Chon at (206) 398-4042 or mchon@seattleu.edu. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled, and it is anticipated that the successful candidate will begin in the Summer of 2001. Seattle University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All persons who meet the position requirements, including women, minorities and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

SETON HALL

Clinical Professor

Seton Hall University School of Law invites applications for a position as a Clinical Professor in Seton Hall's Center for Social Justice beginning approximately July 1, 2001. We are looking to hire someone to direct what would likely be a general civil litigation clinic.

Responsibilities are to supervise eight students per semester on case work and to teach (or co-teach) a weekly two-hour seminar for those students addressing pre-trial and trial skills. There is also opportunity to teach non-clinical courses.

Seton Hall's Center for Social Justice houses two general civil litigation clinics and six subject matter-specific clinics: appellate litigation clinic; fair housing clinic; family law clinic; housing and homelessness clinic; immigration and human rights clinic; and a juvenile justice clinic. The mix of cases in the general civil litigation clinic is largely at the clinical professors' discretion (and might well focus on two or three types of cases). We are also happy to consider candidates who would like to propose a clinic other than a general civil litigation clinic.

The position is for indefinitely renewable 5-year, long-term contracts, following a series of probationary one-year contracts.

Some scholarly writing is required, but not necessarily traditional scholarship in a law review. The salary and benefits are extremely competitive in order to attract high quality clinical faculty.

We are particularly eager to encourage applications from people of color and members of other groups traditionally over-represented in the client population and under-represented among law school faculty. Candidates should have an excellent academic record, a commitment to social justice and/or community work, and a dedication to teaching students. Experience representing indigent clients or prior teaching in a clinical setting is preferred but not required.

To apply, please send a resume and cover letter to Prof. Mark Denbeaux, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, Seton Hall Law School, One Newark Center, Newark, NJ 07102. The interviewing process is already well underway, so if you are interested, please apply (at least with a resume, and a note that a cover letter will follow) as soon as possible.

Seton Hall's Law School is located at the heart of downtown Newark's flourishing renaissance, one block from the New Jersey Performing Arts Center and from Newark Penn Station, and within walking distance of the state and federal courthouses and of the sports complex that is the future home of the New Jersey Devils, the New Jersey Nets, and the Seton Hall Pirates basketball team.

Manhattan is $1 and a 20-minute train ride away.

For more info, see <http://law.shu.edu/>.

Seton Hall Law School is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

SOUTHERN METHODIST

Tenure-Track Faculty Criminal Clinic

Southern Methodist University School of Law is seeking to fill a tenure-track faculty position in the Criminal Clinic beginning on or about July 1, 2001. We will consider both experienced and beginning teachers with excellent legal credentials and scholarly distinction or promise. The school is seeking to continue to diversify its faculty and particularly encourages applications from women and minorities.

SMU will not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. SMU also is committed to nondiscrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

Contact Professor John S. Lowe, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, Southern Methodist University School of Law, Dallas, TX 75275-0116.

SYRACUSE

Tenure-Track Faculty Public Interest Law Firm (PILF)

The Syracuse University College of Law invites applicants for a permanent, tenure track faculty position as Director of the Public Interest Law Firm (PILF). PILF is one of five in-house clinics at the College of Law which specializes in civil rights litigation and advocacy. Applicants for the position who have experience in civil rights litigation (such as disability discrimination litigation) and clinic teaching are strongly encouraged to apply. The College of Law is committed to diversity and is an equal employment opportunity employer. Interested applicants should send their resumes and the names of three references to Professor Martin Fried, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, Syracuse University College of Law, Syracuse, New York 13244-1030 as soon as possible. For more information about clinical legal education at Syracuse University College of Law, you may also contact Professor Arlene S. Kanter, Director of Clinical Legal Education, by email at kantera@law.syr.edu.

TENNESSEE

Tenure-Track Clinical Faculty

The University of Tennessee College of Law invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to commence in the fall semester of 2001. The principal focus of the position is in the area of clinical teaching and lawyering skills.

A J.D. or comparable degree is required. Successful applicants must have a strong academic background and be able to satisfy the requirements for admission to the Tennessee Bar. Substantial professional experience and/or experience in clinical and skills teaching is desirable. Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching, scholarship and service.

In furtherance of the University's and College's fundamental commitment to a diverse faculty, minority group members and women are very strongly encouraged to apply.

Applications, including a letter of intent, resume, and the names and addresses of three references, should be sent to:

Professor Douglas A. Blaze
 Chair, Faculty Appointments
 Committee
 University of Tennessee
 College of Law
 1505 W. Cumberland Avenue
 Knoxville, TN 37996-1810
 UT Knoxville is an EEO/AA/Title
 VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/
 ADEA Institution in the provision of its education and employment programs and services.

TEXAS TECH

Tenure-Track Clinical Faculty

Texas Tech University School of Law is seeking candidates to teach in a new Civil Litigation Clinic beginning with the 2001-02 academic year. This is a tenure-track position, and approximately two-thirds of the teaching load will be devoted to the clinic. Minimum qualifications include a J.D. degree from an ABA accredited law school, a distinguished academic record, and experience as a clinical teacher at an ABA accredited law school or substantial practice experience. Candidates also must either be licensed to practice in Texas or become licensed as soon after accepting the position as is reasonably possible. Texas Tech University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all in every aspect of its operations and encourages applications from all qualified persons. Applications are currently being considered and should be submitted no later than December 1, 2000. Contact: Professor Brian D. Shannon, Chair, Personnel Committee, Texas Tech University School of Law, 1802 Hartford, Lubbock, TX 79409-0004.

TULANE

Criminal Clinic Director

Tulane Law School invites applications for the position of Clinical Professor to serve as the director of the Criminal Clinic beginning in June 2001. Staffed by the director, a clinical instructor and 20 student-attorneys, the Criminal Clinic provides free criminal legal services to indigent clients charged with felonies or misdemeanors, primarily in state courts in the metropolitan New Orleans area. Representation is provided at the trial and appellate level. Responsibilities include teaching in the classroom, client representation, supervision and evaluation of student-attorneys in the Criminal Clinic, managing the clinical staff, assuring high quality casework, engaging in scholarly research and activities, and providing service to the community, the legal profession, the law school and the university.

Requirements include a distinguished academic record, substantial practice experience including trial and appellate work in criminal law (minimum three years), ability to mentor students and dedication to teaching. Experience representing clients in criminal defense is preferred. Clinical teaching experience is preferred but not required. Applicants should also have a demonstrated interest in writing on law, policy or the profession. Candidates must be admitted to practice in Louisiana or willing to become a member of the Louisiana bar promptly. Tulane law School is committed to diversity and equality in employment; women, members of minority groups and physically handicapped persons are encouraged to apply. Applications will be reviewed immediately.

Contact: Catherine Hancock, Chair, Clinical Appointments Committee, Tulane Law School, 6329 Freret Street, New Orleans, Louisiana 70118.

U of WASHINGTON

Lecturer/Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic

The University of Washington School of Law invites applications for a full-time appointment through June 15, 2002 as a Lecturer in its new Low-Income Taxpayer Clinic. Renewal of the appointment will be subject to continued receipt of grant funding and performance in the position. The school seeks applicants who possess superior academic credentials. Candidates must have been admitted to practice law in some state for a minimum of three years. Substantial practice experience in federal taxation and tax litigation, and/or LL.M. in taxation preferred. Teaching experience is preferred but not required.

The position involves: (1) establishing and directing a law school clinical program providing legal advocacy services to low-income taxpayers who have controversies with the IRS; (2) teaching JD and graduate law students the substantive law, procedures and lawyering skills necessary to represent the clinic's clients; (3) supervising the students' provision of legal services to clinic clients; (4) coordinating the clinic's activities with governmental agencies, local bar associations, other departments of the University of Washington and other entities, and establishing a client referral base; and (5) potentially teaching a non-clinical substantive law course in a related area.

The University of Washington is building a culturally diverse faculty and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. The University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Please send a resume and cover letter to:
Secretary, Initial Appointments
Committee
University of Washington School of Law
1100 N.E. Campus Parkway
Seattle, WA 98105-6617

Review of applications is ongoing. We hope to do on-campus interviews before March 2001. For questions please contact: Professor Debbie Maranville (206)543-3434
maran@u.washington.edu

WASHINGTON & LEE

Clinical Faculty

Clinical Faculty position (long-term potential). Primary responsibility will be teaching, supervision and evaluation of law student participants in one of several clinical programs. Current need for supervisor of clinic providing legal assistance to inmates at federal women's prison, but flexibility as to other possible clinical assignments is desirable. Rank will depend on qualifications but ordinarily initial appointment will be for a two-year term with potential for reappointment for three years followed by renewable ten-year contract. Start date July 1, 2001 (or possibly January 2001). Membership in Virginia or West Virginia bar desirable but not required. To apply, please send resume to Professor Ned Henneman, Chair, Faculty Appointments Committee, School of Law, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia 24450. Washington and Lee is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

WESTERN NEW ENGLAND

Clinical Faculty

Western New England College School of Law seeks applicants for appointments to the full-time faculty starting in August 2001. Areas of particular interest include criminal clinic and civil clinic (contract positions) and torts, corporate law and commercial law (tenure track positions). Candidates should have excellent law school records and experience in either law practice or teaching. Applications from persons of diverse background are particularly welcome. Salary and rank are negotiable, based on qualifications. Please send a letter of application, including areas of teaching interest, and resume to Professor Anne B. Goldstein, Chair, Faculty Personnel Committee, Western New England College School of Law, 1215 Wilbraham Road, Springfield, MA 01119-2689.

Anne B. Goldstein, Professor of Law
Western New England College
School of Law
1215 Wilbraham Road
Springfield, MA 01119

413-782-1442

mailto: <agoldstein@law.wnec.edu>

YALE

Yale-China Legal Education Fellowship

The Yale-China Association, a 100 year-old private, non-profit organization dedicated to cooperation between China and the United States, is pleased to invite applications for its China Legal Education Fellowship Program. Fellowship recipients are provided Mandarin Chinese instruction and assigned one-year teaching positions at law schools in the People's Republic of China.

Successful applicants will serve as junior faculty members for a minimum of one academic year. The program supports two kinds of fellows: Teaching Fellows, who instruct classes on American law subjects, and Clinical Fellows, who promote awareness of American approaches to clinical education through workshops, teaching courses, and delivering lectures.

Specific background in the Chinese legal system and Chinese language is desirable but not required. Yale-China welcomes applications from recent graduates of any U.S. law school and from practicing lawyers who wish to enhance their careers with China-related experience. Stipend provided. Deadline for applications are December 1, 2000.

For more information and application materials contact:

Andrew Junker
(203) 432-2295

yale-china@yale.edu

CLEA NEWSLETTER ON THE WEB

The CLEA Newsletter is now posted on the following website:

<http://www.law.und.nodak.edu/clea/>

For the foreseeable future, we will continue to print and mail the newsletter to all CLEA members. However, if you would like to save CLEA money and receive the Newsletter in a more timely manner, you can do so by telling us that you no longer require that we mail a copy of the newsletter to you. We will provide notification by email when the newsletter is posted on the website and also enclose a copy by attachment in PDF format if desired.

You can request these changes by faxing or mailing this form to Mark Heyrman or sending him an email. Please understand that you are under absolutely no obligation to waive your right to get a hard copy of the Newsletter. Obviously, whatever choice you make, we will continue to mail you the Clinical Law Review and all other CLEA mailings such as the election material. Additionally, if you find the electronic format unsatisfactory, you may change your mind at any time.

Name: _____

Email Address: _____

_____ I will read the CLEA Newsletter on the website and no longer need to receive a hard copy in the mail

_____ I wish to receive notification by email when the CLEA Newsletter is published and posted on the website.

_____ I wish to receive a copy of the CLEA Newsletter as a PDF attachment to an email.

Mail, FAX or email this information to:

Mark Heyrman
CLEA
6020 South University Avenue
Chicago, IL 60637
(773) 702-9611
(773) 702-2063 FAX
Email: m-heyрман@uchicago.edu